ReactJS is one of the most popular new web frameworks, used by many innovative companies.

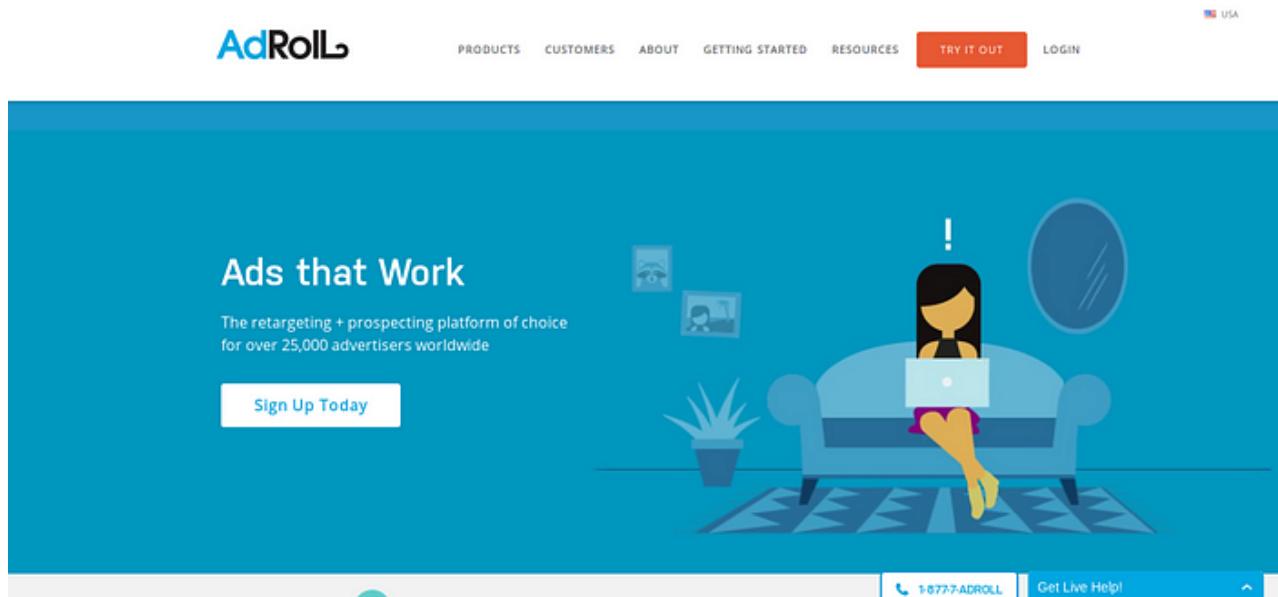

ReactJS is a Javascript library for creating user interfaces. It is the view layer in MVC (Model, View, Controller). ReactJS gives you a template language and some function hooks to output HTML. It is designed so that your program will track “states”, so you don’t have to trace program flow, by tying functionality directly to markup and packages it in a portable, self contained “component”.

These features have made it immensely popular for web development. As a result, many well-known websites have picked it up.
